Consequently, William Murphy and His Wife Will Escape Prosecution.

William Murphy and wife of 24 South Seventh street called at the office of Humane Officer N. T. Williams, 814 Chestnut street, at noon to-day and settled their claim entirely with the Woman's Humane Society had decided to make against them in the Criminal Court.

The woman's story was told in yesterday's SUN-DAY POST-DISPATCH.

Charges of the most revolting conduct were made against the Murphys by their little 14-year-old niece, Katie Murphy, and a statement was made that she had been forced to put new life into him, and with the second administration the effect has been remarkable.

The doctor has been able to walk up and down stairs with ease and to walk in his laboratory for several hours without difficulty, but he was unable to stand to stand at his work for these several hours during the day, when he was usually at work, but that he was able to work in light of lamp at night.

The doctor is a valuable testimony, and as Brown-Squard would not probably realize any.

THE BEST POSSIBLE FIELD

for experiments is at the St. Louis Poorhouse, where there are possibly three hundred of the best subjects that could be obtained.

The objection comes up that paupers are used, possibly to their injury, for the advancement of science, but in this connection the benefit to be derived by the deceiptful paupers from the Brown-Squard elixir, if it is of any value, are so great that they overbalance any objection of that character.

That as it may, the Poorhouse physicians have taken a great interest in the subject in common with other members of the profession, and they have undertaken to prove its value if it is not a fraud.

The doctor, however, has given out preliminary results.

"I do not know what the discovery may result in," said Dr. Palmer. "This I do know, however, that in many cases, it may save life in bridging over a crisis. The preparation is in no sense dangerous, for an application will not be made until it is out of curiosity and derived no good results from its use. Several other physicians will make tests of the new discovery this week."

Successful Experiments.

DETROIT, August 13.—Dr. John W. Palmer, a prominent physician of Detroit, has been experimenting with the "Elixir of Life," and with remarkable results.

His patients were 60 and 70 years old respectively.

The older man was decrepit and had been failing for months.

The younger man had been ill for a year.

The doctor has been able to walk up and down stairs with ease and to walk in his laboratory for several hours without difficulty, but he was unable to stand to stand at his work for these several hours during the day, when he was usually at work, but that he was able to work in light of lamp at night.

The doctor is a valuable testimony, and as Brown-Squard would not probably realize any.

IT IS THE PREDIMINARY RESULTS.

He said he could not determine how far so as yet to the satisfaction of his brother physician, and the furtherance of the interests of the medical profession they have undertaken to make a complete test of it.

Dr. Fleming, of New York, has done a very full study, but the work has fallen to Dr. Daniel Hauckeoderf, a young physician who is just starting out in his profession, and who is in charge of the Poorhouse, and a physician in charge of the male wards, is doing his utmost to give the elixir a thorough trial.

Subscribers going away from the city during the summer are requested to send notice of the change of address to this office, so that the paper can be sent to them regularly.

Weather forecast for twenty-four hours, commencing at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri: Fair in eastern parts; stationary showers in western; stationary temperature except in northeast portion; warmer southeasterly winds.

The readers of yesterday's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH were assured of the fact that St. Louis has the world-beater among newspapers.

The House of Delegates may be able to save a little reputation for sense and honesty by reconsidering the Branham gas ordinance and unanimously voting it down.

The only offsets to the gratifying reports of bounteous harvests all over the country are the reports of the formation and growth of big trusts to absorb the profits of the harvests.

MEMBERS of the House of Delegates who voted for the Branham gas bill have the choice of confessing to dense ignorance, imbecility or dishonesty. There are surely no members of the City Council who would put themselves in the same box.

The revelations with regard to the methods employed to secure the appointment of Detective FURLONG to the office of Chief of the Secret Service come at an opportune time. The President has a chance to save himself from committing a blunder worse than that of appointing a dead man.

The rapid increase of typhoid fever in Chicago should convince the citizens of that unfortunate place that if they have any money to invest it should be invested in improving the city's drainage. The folly of inviting the world to visit a death trap in 1892 must be apparent to them.

The citizens of St. Louis are hardly willing to guarantee handsome fortunes out of the city treasury to any set of bold schemers who choose to ask for them, offering nothing in exchange. This is equivalent to the statement that the citizens of St. Louis are a unit against the gas ordinance which has passed the House of Delegates.

The suggestion of Chairman CAMPBELL of the Mining Convention Committee that representative men of the mining districts be added to the general committee is an excellent one. The personal interest in the success of the convention which will be aroused in this way cannot fail to give admirable aid to the local committee. The chief thing now is to interest the miners in the event.

The trouble in this city seems to be to hold back subscribers to the World's Fair fund until the proper time to receive subscriptions. Before an organization has been perfected more money has been assured to the enterprise than New York and Chicago have been able to secure weeks after their committees were organized. St. Louis enjoys the unique distinction of being the only city of the country in which the liberality of its citizens must be held in check.

WHEN the mob called recently at the palace of King "Calico" of the Sandwich Islands at 4 o'clock in the morning the King happened to be away. What the King was doing away from home at that time in the morning does not appear, but he was called up by telephone and was told that the mob wanted him. The King and his Cabinet thereupon telephoned the news all over Honolulu and called out the police and the militia, who put down the riot. Great has been the progress of the Sandwich Islanders and great is modern science.

The new naturalization law of France makes the son of a French father a Frenchman, no matter where he was born, and it makes a Frenchman of nearly everyone born in France, regardless of parentage. A son born in France to a native American residing there must register himself as an American on coming of age or he becomes a Frenchman. A naturalized French-American may have a son born in France who is a Frenchman under French law and an American under our law. This conflict may prove trouble.

some to some of our citizens, and some to these days our Government will have to let all foreign governments know that there is a point beyond which they will not be permitted to ignore or nullify American citizenship.

VERSATILE SENATOR INGALLS.

SENATOR INGALLS, in his remarkable article on prohibition, reminds one of a double part variety actor who makes up to represent a woman on one side and a man on the other side of his person.

The wily Senator has a prohibition side which he turns towards the Kansas crowd and an anti-prohibition side which presents to the mass of sensible people in and out of Kansas. A wink appears in every line of the article, which is a plain intimation that Senator INGALLS is writing as well as his inner consciousness will permit in favor of prohibition, but he does not believe in it and does not want any one who is not afflicted with the prohibition mania to believe that he does believe in it.

He gives the strongest arguments against prohibition and the strongest arguments in favor of high license. He attacks prohibition on the ground that it is wrong to cut off moderate drinkers from indulgence and destroy personal liberty in order to save the drunkards. He denies that prohibition destroys personal liberty. He elaborately argues that prohibition is illogical and wrong because it destroys property and punishes all for the offense of the few. He declares that prohibition prohibits and admits that anybody can get liquor in Kansas. He even asserts that it is impossible to stop the use of alcoholic drinks as a beverage as long as alcohol is manufactured for any purpose. He finds ground for the possibility that prohibition will be adopted as the organic law of the land, while stating that it is best to leave it to the States, and is only a partial success in Kansas. He closes his mass of inconsistencies with an occult hint that some mysterious thing will be found to take the place of the drumshop and distillery. Whether this shall be the underground joint, refrigerator cars, the Salvation Army, the lemon squeezer, or the pocket pistol is left to the imagination of the reader.

CHARITABLE people may find excuse for the Senator's disconnected jumble of contrary opinions and statements in the surprise that he has been testing the question whether prohibition prohibits, too, zealously. Others will bear in mind the fact that the Senator will go before his constituents for re-election in 1890 and wants to retain his office but save his reputation for political sanity.

AS a vigilant and untiring champion of the weak against the strong oppressor, the New York WORLD has already made reputation enough to account for its unequal circulation and popularity. But it still finds plenty of work to do, and is continually adding to its long and brilliant catalogue of achievements in that line. Its recent exposure of how Sheriff FLACK, the Tammany Chief, obtained sexily a divorce from his wife by collusion with a Tammany Judge and a Tammany lawyer, who pretended to act as attorney for Mrs. FLACK, has forced FLACK to resign his Tammany Chieftaincy and membership, and bids fair to drive Judge BOOKSTAVER from the bench and the implicated lawyer from the bar. It is a new thing for New York to have a Democratic paper able and willing to discipline the potentes of New York politics.

From the Philadelphia Record.

Three miles a minute is the speed said to have been attained at the trial of an electro-magnetic train in Maryland yesterday. The system is intended only for the transmission of light express packages and letters and newspapers. Something certain, if it should turn out to be practicable it would greatly aid in expediting business and add in a thousand ways to the convenience of life. Quotations by message has demonstrated how desirable it is to communicate quickly by package. We want to put Pack into a brass box and send him on a circumnavigatory trip in forty minutes. How nice it would be to telegraph at 4 p. m. to China for a box of tea and have it ready by "5 o'clock;" or, in the sixth inning, to Bengal for a tiger and have him here in time to eat the vampire in the ninth!

Gould's Partners.

From the New York World.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker expresses surprise that some of the newspapers have abased him so villainously for trying to reduce the Government rate for Western Union Telegraph messages from 1 cent to 1 mill per word. Mr. Wanamaker ought to stop and reflect. If he had control of a New York newspaper, for instance, and was at the same time a stockholder in the Western Union Telegraph monopoly, would he not be tempted to make it hot for any man interfering with his dividends? This is upon the theory, of course, that Mr. Wanamaker as an editor would be unscrupulous in the use of his power and that he could care more for his private interests at all times than any interest which the great public may have.

Wanamaker's Free Bricks.

They tell a good story about Postmaster-General Wanamaker which well exemplifies his guilelessness. When he began to build his church in Philadelphia, it is said, he told his Sunday-school boys that he wanted them each to have a personal interest in the new building, and he therefore expected that on the morrow every one of them would bring a nice brick.

Now the bricks were forthcoming, but with the result that the boys did not care to consider of the sudden depletion of sundry brick piles in diverse parts of the city. Mr. Wanamaker had to listen to many insinuations upon the brick business as connected with the building of church edifices.

The World's Fair and Wind.

We beg leave to call the attention of the Chicago newspapers working for the laudable purpose of securing the world's fair, to a brief remark made by Col. Gabe Bouché of Oak Park, after the fair building in that city had been leveled by a tornado. A meeting among the "reconstruction" had been protracted for hours. "Wind," said Col. Bouché, "blew the old building down, but it won't be built again by a—sight. I'll give $500."

Our Beloved John's Clerks.

From the Kansas City Times.

The greatest dry goods house in the world has failed. It was not Mr. Wanamaker's. As long as somewhere in the neighborhood of 40,000 fourth-class postmasters are acting as Mr. Wanamaker's agents there is no danger that his house will fail. The other houses will do the failing.

Wanted to Let Go.

From the New York Times.

It is plain that Capt. Shepard intended and desired that his prize should escape. That was, doubtless, the prudent course. To have invoked an Admiralty decision upon his act of consider the bill without losing the respect of all intelligent citizens.

IN the Street Department can give any reason why Grand avenue from Easton north to the Fair Ground should be kept the worst piece of roadway in this city, we should like to hear it. Property along it has risen rapidly in value, and the owners are as well able as any in the city to stand the cost of paving it to match that part of Grand between Laclede and Easton. The Fair Ground is one of the points to which our citizens like to take visitors in carriages, but the Grand avenue part of the drive is a terror to all owners of good horses and vehicles.

SELECTING JOHN T. DAVIS for the chairmanship of the World's Fair Committee his colleagues have placed at the head of the organization a representative business man who is a millionaire, but is still a workingman. But the committee is composed of and is officered throughout with representative men. The foundations of the St. Louis World's Fair enterprise have been well laid and there is every assurance in the preliminary work that the interests of the city will not be neglected.

FIGURES TO CONSIDER.

What It Cost to Make Philadelphia's Show a Success.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

From what sources the ways and means for our great exhibition came it may be worth the while and indeed a friendly and serviceable place before New Yorkers. First of all, the individual people of Philadelphia and from individual subscribers. Pennsylvania, subscriber $1,764,689. The inspired subscriptions from other States, which carried the aggregate of such subscriptions to $2,77,940, of which $266,922 came from New York State, $66,674 from New Jersey, $89,274 from the six New England States, $14,344 from the Pacific slope and $2,468 from all the rest of the country. So it will be seen that, so far as affairs of this kind are concerned, the effective work, like charity, must begin and be largely done at home.

That $1,750,000 Philadelphia and Pennsylvania money so raised, however, was not all of the money contributed by the people at home.

WHILE he is on his travels the German Emperor spends at least one hour each day in writing to his wife, to whom he also sends a telegraphic dispatch from every stopping-place on his route.

SIR EDWARD WATKIN proposes, if ever he gets his Channel tunnel cut through—and that's a big, big M—to run trains direct from London to Gibraltar, transfer cars to boat to Tangier, and thence along the north coast of Africa, through Egypt, down the Persian Gulf to Kurrachee, and so on to Calcutta, without change of place.

FRANK GUITEAU, railway engineer, of Freeport, Ill., a 45-year-old man with many friends, is a first cousin of Guiteau, the assassin.

MONEY.

NEW YORK, August 12, 11 a. m.—The bullish feeling in the stock market was quite pronounced this morning and London figures came in at 100 1/2, the first time since July generally from 10 to 4 per cent better than Saturday's closing figures. Louisville & Nashville and St. Louis stocks were up 1/2 per cent again. The sharp improvement exhausted the lifting power of the market, however, and except in Rock Island, which rose 1/2 per cent, the market advanced only 1/4 per cent.
There were slight and unimportant. There was a fair business done, though the Graves, 100,000, Pacific preferred and Pacific Northern Pacific preferred and Washington preferred were the only really active stocks. Prices went back again toward the close, and the Ohio and the C. C. & St. Louis stocks showed a considerable weakness, losing from 1/2 to 5 per cent.
At 12 m. the market was 100 1/2, the Sugar Trust becoming active and breaking over 1 per cent in the last few minutes.
The general rise, however, was still slightly but not enough.

Noon—Money easy at 92 1/2 per cent. Bar silver 92 1/2. Sugar Trust continued to be the feature of the market. It closed 100 1/2 and it further declined to 100 1/2, a net loss of 2 1/2 per cent from opening price. The regular line, however, shook hands with this influence, and the passenger line, from Rock Island, regaining a portion of the loss from the best figures of the previous day. The noon market was still firm and generally at small fractions better than opening prices.

3 p.m.—The stock market was strong in the last hour, and the C. C. & St. Louis stocks jumped to the front with an advance in the common of 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 in the preferred. The C. C. & St. Louis stocks responded and the market fraction by fraction, with the C. C. & St. Louis stocks again marked up. The market closed 100 1/2, the Sugar mon dropped 1/2 per cent to 73. The market finally closed quiet and generally strong at the last price.

the feature of the market. It closed 100 1/2 and it further declined to 100 1/2, a net loss of 2 1/2 per cent from opening price. The regular line, however, shook hands with this influence, and the passenger line, from Rock Island, regaining a portion of the loss from the best figures of the previous day. The noon
market was still firm and generally at small fractions better than opening prices.

CAN NOT FORM A TRUST.

Calvin & Brie Too Much for the Standard Oil Company.

By Telegraph to the Post-DISPATCH.

COLUMBUS, O., August 12.—The report that the Standard Oil Co. was organizing an immense natural gas trust and connecting the names of Calvin S. Brie, Oliver H. Payne and James D. Dimmick with the movement, was shown. Mr. Townsend said that he had heard there was not a word of truth in it, because neither of the gentlemen mentioned was in any way connected with the Standard Oil Co. Oliver H. Payne retired from the directory not several years ago, and has not been on the board of the Standard Oil building for over three years. The facts are that the Standard has been practically driven out of the business by the arrival of Bries and his friends. The Standard policy was to control everything, while Mr. Brie adopted the plan of taking and desired amount of gas in the Natural gas field and allowing the local stockholders to have complete control. He is an enthusiast on the natural gas field, and his company now owns a controlling interest in many companies in Indiana and Ohio. There are large tracts of gas in the field controlled by private citizens, municipalities and corporations, whose interests are so diversified that it would be impossible to form a trust.

Murderously Assailed Her Admirer—Fatal Quarrel Between Farmers.

PALFREY, August 12.—Hinton Brooks, a negro, was found in the house of Anna Petty, a colored woman, with fourteen large cuts in his head, which the woman had inflicted with a hatchet. She said Brooks had tried to force her to run away with him and threatened to kill her. In self-defense she used the hatchet on him. Brooks will die from his injuries.

DAVENPORT, August 12.—At the little town of Davenport, eighteen miles from the city, George Bolton was murdered by Wm. Smith. Both men were farmers and had quarreled. Smith went to the barn of his neighbor, Bolton. Not finding him there he went out on the street and seeing Bolton coming along drunk put his gun and fired, killing him instantly.

A BRUTAL HUSBAND.

He Throws a Lighted Lamp at His Wife, Fatally Injuring Her.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., August 12.—Mrs. Margaret Wallace died at the Pennsylvania Hospital this morning from the effects of burns received by the explosion of an oil lamp thrown at her by her husband, Andrew Wallace. He was born in Philadelphia and worked freely all day yesterday and at midnight when he went to bed he wanted more, but his wife refused to let him have any. Wallace, becoming enraged, threw a lighted lamp at the woman, striking her the neck and setting fire to her clothing, burning her terribly.

ARLIE LATHAM LAID OFF.

PRESIDENT VON DER AHE SUSPENDS THE THIRD BASEMAN INDEFINITELY.

His Conduct Severely Condemned and His Absence From the Team Not Noticed by Yesterday's Immense Crowd—Basing Events in the East-Mound S. to Be Trained for a Record—Base Ball and Sporting News.

PRESIDENT VON DER AHE this morning noticed Latham, that his suspension, which has been temporary, was now in effect for an indefinite period. The reason of his suspension is because of his generally bad ball playing and for conduct unbecoming a gentleman and prejudicial to the St. Louis Club. Mr. Von der Ahe has given Latham's case a good deal of attention and has taken this course because circumstances justify it. Latham has acted very strangely since the first part of July, and has not only not played the ball he is capable of, but has done the St. Louis Club a gross disservice. The club is not the only one that is suffering from his conduct.

Latham will have a chance now to sit quietly down and cogitate on the world of truth in the biblical aphorism: "Evil communions breed evil." Brooklyn will go from here to Kansas City. The Cowboys are anxiously waiting to give them a "warm" reception. It would not be surprising to see them fall down for two games.

Latham's suspension will teach him a lesson which he could and would not learn by means of his being suspended by his manager, Von der Ahe, and his lack of appreciation reflects very discreditably upon him.

Sweeney reminded the old timers of Jerry Denny in many of his movements and the Brooklyn fans will be surprised if Denny might join Bill Gleason and Dolan in the minor leagues. He never could play alongside Denny.

"That settles it," yelled a man who stood next to President Byrne of Brooklyn, yesterday, when Dave Foutz ran up to kick about one of Feeney's hits. He was quite right.

Bob Ferguson acknowledged to Capt. Comiskey yesterday that he had made a mistake.

He was suspended on Saturday.

Latham will soon be around looking like a whipped boy. He never had any money, and suspension without means that he will starve unless some of the people who have been advising him will support him on his "warm" reception.

It is not likely, however, that he may do nothing in return. The chances are that his withdrawal will strengthen the team, because Sweeney can look up to him as a streak of lightning.
